

The Cultural Factors In Workplace Health and Safety

TIME: 9.00am-12.30pm

DATE CODE
Tue 7 Sep 2010 WHS-09

VENUE:

West End Qld 4101 areas.
Details in registration

Morning Tea Coffee will be served

YOUR INVESTMENT (Inclusive GST)

$110 per person ($100 per person-for 4 or more)

WHAT THE PROGRAM OFFERS

This three-hour workshop provides participants with a comprehensive introduction to understanding and addressing the influences of culture and language on workplace health and safety.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Workplace health and safety officers, human resources staff and managers.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Participants will be introduced to the scope of issues arising out of the cultural factor in workplace health and safety in Queensland workplaces. They will explore how culture and language influences communication and the understanding of workplace health and safety information. In addition, they will be introduced to key areas to consider in assessing the risks.

ENQUIRIES

Ph: 07-3844 9166 ; Fax: 07-3846 4453

Email: admin@picc.org.au

What participants have said about this program?

"It promotes respectful interactions"
"comfortable learning approach, great group participation"

Online registration is now available at www.picc.org.au

A RANGE OF CUSTOMISED PROGRAMS ARE AVAILABLE FOR DELIVERY IN YOUR WORKPLACE - please contact Sandra Bennett, Client Liaison Manager on 3844 9166 or email to admin@picc.org.au

"An initiative of the Ethnic Communities Council of Queensland"